Key Features of the Pension Annuity (including the Enhanced Pension Annuity)

The Financial Conduct Authority is a financial services regulator. It requires us, Aviva, to give you this important information to help you to decide whether our Pension Annuity (including the Enhanced Pension Annuity) is right for you. You should read this document carefully so that you understand what you are buying, and then keep it safe for future reference.

This Key Features document gives you the main points of the Pension Annuity (including the Enhanced Pension Annuity) plan. Your illustration shows the income you may get. Please read the Key Features together with your illustration so you understand what you're buying. You should then keep them with your other plan documents.

We recommend that you seek appropriate guidance or advice to understand your options. Pension Wise can help you with this. More information about Pension Wise is on page 7.

Its aims

- To pay you a guaranteed income for the rest of your life.
- To pay an income to a dependant when you die, if you choose.

Your commitment

- To use your pension pot to buy a Pension Annuity or Enhanced Pension Annuity from us on fixed terms, to last the rest of your life.
- To make a once and for all decision about the income you want.
- To ensure you answer any medical, personal or lifestyle questions fully, truthfully and accurately to the best of your knowledge. If you fail to do so, your income may be reduced to our standard rates. Any overpayments already made may be recovered.
- To tell us if any of the medical details or other information you give us changes between the time you sign the application form and the start of your plan.

Risks

- You can't change or cash in your Pension Annuity or Enhanced Pension Annuity, even if your personal circumstances change.
- Your dependant won't have any income from this plan after you die if you haven't arranged for your Pension Annuity or Enhanced Pension Annuity to continue.
- Inflation will reduce what your money can buy in the future. There's no protection against inflation unless you choose a Pension Annuity or Enhanced Pension Annuity that increases each year. If you choose a fixed rate of increase this could still mean that inflation increases at a higher rate than your income.
- If you die in the early years of your plan, the total income you've received may be less than the pension pot used to buy the Pension Annuity or Enhanced Pension Annuity. Value protection and setting a guarantee period can protect against this.
- If you have provided us with medical information, to support your application for an Enhanced Pension Annuity, and your doctor is unable to support this information, your annuity income may be reduced to standard rates, unless further medical evidence is provided.
- Annuity rates may change after you have submitted your application. This means the income quoted could change between us providing you with an illustration and you taking out your annuity. If this happens and the income you would receive has reduced, we'll contact you.
- The value of your pension fund can fluctuate so the amount you can use to buy your annuity can change as well.

Questions and answers

What is the Pension Annuity (including the Enhanced Pension Annuity)?

- It's a plan that provides you with an income for the rest of your life. You buy it with your pension pot.
- You must have a pension pot of £10,000 or more, after any tax-free cash is taken, to buy this annuity.
- You can normally buy a Pension Annuity or Enhanced Pension Annuity if you are at least age 55 and not older than 90.
- You may be able to take a tax-free cash sum of up to 25% of your pension pot when you buy your Pension Annuity or Enhanced Pension Annuity. A financial adviser will be able to give you more details.
- It can provide a dependant with an income when you die, should you choose this option.

How flexible is it?

- Before your plan is set up, you can choose its basis and how it's paid.
- You can find details of the choices you can make when setting up the plan, under the headings:
 - What will my income be?
 - What choices will I have about how I get my Pension Annuity (including the Enhanced Pension Annuity)?
- Once the plan is set up, you can't change or cash in your plan, or defer payments made to you from your Pension Annuity or Enhanced Pension Annuity. Setting the policy up also fixes the benefits it provides (if any) to another person after your death. There is no opportunity to change this at a later date.

What will my income be?

The amount of income you get from your Pension Annuity or Enhanced Pension Annuity will depend on a number of things when you set up your plan, including:

- your age
- your postcode
- your marital status
- whether you smoke
- your health/lifestyle for an Enhanced Pension Annuity
- the size of your pension pot
- interest rates at the time
- whether you take a tax-free cash sum
- the adviser you choose
- any choices you make about your income.

It's important to shop around for the best deal for you.

It's possible that you could get a higher income from another provider.

What income options do I have?

You can choose combinations of the below options. You can ask for illustrations with different options to see the difference they would make to your income.

- Payments to your dependant;
 - You can choose to take a smaller income at the start, so that an income is paid to a dependant if you die before them.
 - If an income is to be paid to a dependant after you die, the income you receive will take into account their health, as well as your own.
- Guarantee payment periods;
 - This annuity has a one year guarantee as standard (unless the trustees of the registered pension scheme are the planholder or you have extended the value protection period). However, you can choose to take a smaller income that is guaranteed for longer.
 - You can choose at the outset for any income remaining after your death in the guarantee period, to be paid as a continued income, or a lump sum (if you die before the age of 75).

For more information about this option, please see the 'What is a guarantee period?' section of this document.

- Value protection;
 - This annuity has value protection as standard for 90 days from the start of the plan. However you can choose to take a smaller income where value protection is extended beyond 90 days.
 - You can choose at the outset whether you wish to extend the value protection for the remainder of your life or for a specified term from the plan start date.

For more information about this option, please see the 'What is Value Protection?' section of this document.

- Payment Increases
 - You can choose to take a smaller income at the start, which will normally increase each year. If an income from your Pension Annuity or Enhanced Pension Annuity is to be paid to a dependant after you die, this will normally increase in the same way.
 - Increases to your Pension Annuity or Enhanced Pension Annuity can be:
 - at a fixed rate each year, or
 - in line with the Retail Prices Index (RPI), or
 - in line with the RPI up to a fixed amount. We'll use the RPI figure published the month before the increase is due.
 - If the RPI is negative (deflation), your income will remain level. It will start to increase again once the RPI has risen above the point it was at when your income became level. For more information, please refer to the terms and conditions.
 - The government has special rules for increases to pensions from defined benefit schemes that are earned after 5 April 1997. Your illustration will show the details. An example of a defined benefit scheme is a pension linked to your length of service and earnings.

You don't have to take any options and can choose to take an income that stays the same and stops when you die.

While you are alive we won't reduce or stop your payments based on the options you choose, except where we are unable to verify any medical information.

Can I get a higher income?

- If you (or your dependant, if appropriate) have or have previously suffered from cancer, a heart attack, a stroke, have diabetes or any other serious medical condition that could shorten your life expectancy, you may qualify for a higher income. Not all forms of these conditions will qualify.

Will I have to attend a medical examination?

- You will not be required to attend a medical examination. However, we may ask you (or your dependant, if appropriate) to complete a health questionnaire. We may also ask your doctor for a medical report.
- It is your responsibility to provide us with accurate information about your health and lifestyle.
- We may request your permission to approach your doctor or ask you to carry out a medical test to confirm that the information you have provided is correct. If it is discovered that information provided by you is inaccurate, or if a medical test or permission to consult your doctor is refused, this may result in a reduction of the income payments made to you and/or recovery of any payments already made.

What has happened to my contracted out benefits?

- If you were contracted out through a defined benefit scheme, any contracted out part you earned before 6 April 1997 may be included in your illustration as a "Guaranteed Minimum Pension".

What choices will I have about how I get my Pension Annuity (including the Enhanced Pension Annuity)?

- You can choose how often you'll receive your Pension Annuity or Enhanced Pension Annuity income. This can be monthly, quarterly, half-yearly or yearly. You can choose whether the income is paid at the beginning or end of the period.
- For monthly payments, you can choose the day of the month that we make payments. This can be any day up to the 28th of the month.
- These choices will affect the amount of income you'll get.
- Your income will be paid directly into your UK bank or building society account. We can pay to overseas accounts in most countries, subject to current exchange rates and a charge per payment, currently £2.74.

What happens to my Pension Annuity (including the Enhanced Pension Annuity) when I die?

- Your Pension Annuity or Enhanced Pension Annuity will end when you die unless:
 - you die within the first 90 days of your plan start date, in which case value protection will apply and a lump sum will be paid to your estate. If you have a dependant on your plan, the lump sum will only be paid if you both die within this period and will be paid to the estate of the last one of you to die.
 - you die after 90 days but within your guarantee period. Payments will continue until the end of the guarantee period, these will be paid to your estate or dependant on the policy.
 - an income is to be paid to a dependant and they are still alive.
 - you have chosen to continue your value protection beyond the first 90 days of your plan start date, in which case a lump sum may be payable to your estate or your dependant's estate.

Please see your terms and conditions or contact your financial adviser (if applicable) or contact us direct for further information and exclusions which may apply to the above.

What is Value Protection?

- Aviva offers value protection as standard for 90 days from your plan start date. If you die within this period a lump sum will be paid to your estate. Where you have named a dependant on your plan and you both die within this period, this lump sum will be paid to the estate of the last one of you to die. The lump sum will be equivalent to the price paid for your annuity, minus any payments already made. It will also include any guarantee period payments.

You have the option to continue your value protection once the standard 90 day period ends. You can choose to protect up to 100 percent of the price paid for your annuity, either for the rest of your life or for a specified term beginning at your plan start date. Optional value protection will pay any remaining value to your estate as a lump sum when you die. Where you have named a dependant on your plan, the lump sum will be paid to the estate of the last named person to die. This lump sum will be equal to the price paid for your annuity or the percentage you've chosen to protect, less any payments already made.

If you choose to continue your value protection beyond 90 days from your plan start date the standard one year guarantee period will no longer apply.

What is a guarantee period?

- A guarantee period is a period when the income you set up for yourself will continue to be paid even if you die. Any remaining payments due within the guarantee period will normally be paid as set out in your will and form part of your estate.
- If you die after 90 days but within your guarantee period, we will continue to make your annuity payments to your estate or dependants until the end of that period. However, this does not apply if your annuity was purchased for you by the trustees of a defined benefit pension scheme.

Aviva offers a minimum one year guarantee period as standard. However you can choose a longer guarantee period of up to 30 years, unless your annuity originates from a defined benefits scheme. The maximum for these is up to 10 years.

If you choose optional value protection, the guarantee period will no longer apply.

What are the charges?

Product and investment charges

- All the charges for setting up and running your plan are taken into account when we work out your annuity income, bought with your pension pot.
- The illustration shows how much income the pension pot will buy. We don't take any charges from your income.
- If commission is being paid to your adviser, this is covered within the pricing of the annuity and will be shown on your illustration.
- If we need to rewrite the terms of your plan due to any information being incorrect or incomplete, then we will charge you £40 each time.

Adviser Charges

- If you have asked us to pay an adviser charge from your pension pot, this will be shown on your illustration.

What about tax?

- Your Pension Annuity or Enhanced Pension Annuity payments will be treated as earned income and taxed according to your personal circumstances. We will tax it under the Pay As You Earn regulations (PAYE), as we are required to do.
- Your Pension Annuity or Enhanced Pension Annuity payments will normally be made after the tax payable has been deducted.
- If you have selected an income to be paid to your dependant when you die, this may not be taxable. If you die before your 75th birthday and have bought a Lifetime Annuity, your dependant's income will be tax free. Otherwise, their income will be taxed according to their personal circumstances.

- The lump sum value of any remaining guaranteed instalments paid to your or your dependant's estate from your Pension Annuity or Enhanced Pension Annuity may be subject to inheritance tax.
- The government has put a limit on the total value of all retirement benefits (excluding state pensions) that you can normally take without paying a tax penalty. The limit is called the lifetime allowance and the tax is called a lifetime allowance charge. You should already be aware if this is likely to affect the level of annuity you will receive. A financial adviser will be able to give you more details.
- If you die in the guaranteed period before age 75, then:
 - if the lump sum is payable and you have bought a Lifetime Annuity, it will be paid tax free, or
 - if your benefits are provided under a defined benefits arrangement, the lump sum will be paid tax free, or may count towards your lifetime allowance, dependent upon the option chosen at the outset or
 - if payments continue they will be paid tax free.If you die in the guaranteed period on or after age 75:
 - payments will continue and will be taxed at the recipient's marginal rate.Your illustration will show which applies.
- If you choose to continue value protection beyond 90 days and a lump sum is payable on death, then:
 - if you die before age 75 the lump sum will be paid tax free, or
 - if you die aged 75 or over, the lump sum will be taxed at the recipient's marginal rate.
 - if you have a dependant on your plan, the tax treatment of the lump sum will be determined by the age at which you die.
- We've included only a general tax summary in this document; tax treatment depends on your individual circumstances.
- We've based this information on our current interpretation of tax rules. These rules may be subject to change in the future.
- A financial adviser can give you more details about your tax position.

Can I change my mind?

- You have the option to cancel your Pension Annuity (including the Enhanced Pension Annuity):
 - At any point before your annuity plan starts, or
 - Up to 30 days from the date that you receive our confirmation that your annuity plan has started.
- If you choose to take a tax-free cash sum and decide to cancel your annuity:
 - before the tax-free cash sum is paid, we can return the funds to the transferring pension scheme if you gain their agreement that they are willing to accept the pension funds back, or
 - after we or another provider have paid the tax-free cash sum, it cannot be returned and you must use the remaining pension pot to buy another product that provides you with an income in retirement, either from us or another provider. If you do not do this within 6 months of the tax-free cash sum being paid, it will no longer be tax free and will become subject to tax charges.
- If you want to cancel your application for a Pension Annuity (including the Enhanced Pension Annuity) before the plan has started all you have to do is tell us.
- In order to cancel the annuity plan after it has started, you must:
 - Sign and return the cancellation form within the 30 day period, which you can find at the back of your illustration.
 - Return any income payments we may have already paid, by cheque made payable to Aviva. Please post this to the address under the How to contact us section.
 - Gain agreement from an insurance company to receive the funds so that they can provide you with an income in retirement.
- Where you have asked us to pay an adviser charge and this has already been paid it will not be refunded.
- If the cancellation form is not returned the annuity plan will continue.
